Last evening Messrs. Heath & Best, of the Broom hotel, shipped to the Atterbury Glass Manufacturing Co., Pittsburg, Pa., and the Hamilton Glass Works, Hamilton, Ontario, a sample of shiles, the finest kind of sand for the manufacture of glassware. The material was found in the mountains directly east of the city, where it is said to exist in unlimited quantities. It resembles very much the material now being used at the above named establishments.

They-Locked the Jatter in and Decamped-The Tintic Railroad Fight.

The case of the Union Pacific railway company vs. the Rio Grande rallway com pany was taken up in the First district track at Mammoth gulch, at Tintic, in order to reach the Bullion I cok mine. The duty of the jury will be to pass upon the amount of damage done.

The court will determine the right of condemnation. Sutherland & Vancott are for the Union Facilic, and Whitecotton & Bennett for the Rio Grande.

It was ordered that the question of damages he first desided.

It was ordered that the question of damages be first decided.

Mr. Whitecotton made an offer in behalf of the Rio Grande company to allow $100 for damages done to the Union Pacific company in crossing the tracks. Mr. Vancott said the offer should not have been made in a court, and reused to take any action upon it. This attorney then gave a description of the tracks of the companies running into Eureka, and showed how the Rio Grande attempted to cross them at the Comstock, inflicting a considerable damage.

J. C. MELNEMET,

division engineer of the Union Pacific, described the character of the union Pacific, described the character of the country about Tintte, showing the Rio Graude to have a down grade across the Union Pacific at the Constock at an angle of about 33 degrees. Along this line is handled all the ore of the mining company. The Union Pacific has no other line on which to carry to its business.
